Axe Head Border in Black and Burnt Red Stone

Let the colours of Pompei coupled with black limestone enhance your interior setting and mood

This unique contrasting Axe Head border is fashioned from Burn Umber Sandstone and Polished Blac Marble. As these borders are gently ground and polished by hand there is a gentle surface undulation impossible to reproduce by machine.

Supplied over a stone base ensuring that the border is not only stable and sound, but also easy to install. Totally handcut, hand assembled, a truly handmade product. No border is the same as the artists hand is vital in creating natural nuances within each unique piece.

Thicknesses can be 2cm or to order as can the border widths and material combinations.

All the De Ferranti borders are fully customisable.
