Field Mosaic - 5469J

Random assembly of mosaic fragments handcut and placed

Simple and eye catching design showing a random field mosaic.

Each stone is carefully selected, cut and then assembled by hand. The slight indentations in the mosaic field, enhance the beauty of this mosaic despite its simplicity. Of particular interest is the irregular nature of the small tesserae, they sing and dance. Although randomly placed, there is much to be said about artistic license here - no single creation will ever be the same. Only the discerning eye would pick this up, a small detail with maximum impact.

As is the case with all the De Ferranti Mosaic collections, we are able to fully customise the materials, colours and tailor the mosaics to your space creating unique and personalised pieces.
