Zig Zag - Black/Henna

This design is part of Neisha 's investigation of what can be done with spokes.

It is the simplest from the point of view that it is just one spoke repeatedly line up in a row above a row. Note that the spoke is a right angle rather than an equilateral triangle giving the repeat a soft slanting movement.

"I always think that putting shapes into repeat is a bit like arranging notes in music only it produces a visual rhythm and tune rather than audible one. I hope this collection demonstrates this." Neisha Crosland
